Challenges in Remote Working - Leadership and Technology

26th November 2020, 16:00-18:00 CET

Join our new series of Online Dialogues to co-design the future of work and discuss the long-term effects of the current Covid-driven changes.

In this upcoming LIVING INNOVATION Dialogue, we

1. Learn how to lead virtual teams and to support leaders in driving individual, team and organizational performance in a virtual world
2. Explore emerging technologies that support remote working, such as AI and virtual or augmented reality
3. Discuss what role policy can play and how we can ensure that responsible innovation is considered.

Meet the experts:

- Sabine Aigner, partner at SPENCER STUART, a global executive search and leadership consulting firm, will show you how to ensure high levels of motivation, trust and effectiveness.
- Jan Hickisch, Vice President Global Portfolio Strategy and Marketing at UNIFY, an Atos company, will give insights on the technologies that will shape our future home offices.
- Stefan Schennach, Member of the COUNCIL OF EUROPE and former Chairperson of the Committee on Social Affairs, Health and Sustainable Development, will explain how we can put technology to the service of the people.

Facilitated by André Martinuzzi, Coordinator of the LIVING-INNOVATION project and head of the Institute for Managing Sustainability at WU Vienna.

The expert impulses are followed by in depth conversations on

- How to make responsible use of these new technologies?
- Compassion and motivation in times of crisis?

- How to increase resilience of organizations and teams?
- How to re-inforce leaders' presence in virtual setting?
